

Labcorp Launches Labcorp Whole Health Solutions to Support Holistic Care

June 18, 2025

New offering delivers convenient, comprehensive lab testing solutions for functional medicine, integrative medicine and primary care providers

BURLINGTON, N.C., June 18, 2025 /PRNewswire/ -- Labcorp (NYSE: LH), a global leader of innovative and comprehensive laboratory services, announced today the launch of Labcorp Whole Health Solutions to support the growing needs of functional medicine, integrative medicine and primary care providers in delivering holistic care. The solution launches specialized test panels and a tailored test menu of more than 1,000 scientifically backed biomarkers for cardiometabolic health, hormones, micronutrients, longevity and whole body wellness.

Patients and healthcare providers are increasingly embracing integrative and functional medicine approaches, seeking comprehensive and holistic strategies that are tailored to an individual's unique needs. Approximately 37% of U.S. adults, or about 122 million people, used at least one complementary or integrative health approach in 2022, according to the National Institutes of Health's (NIH) National Center for Complementary and Integrative Health (NCCIH). Labcorp has also seen steady growth in the number of integrative and functional practitioners it serves.

"At Labcorp, we recognize the growing demand for more comprehensive healthcare solutions, and our new offering is a direct response to this evolving landscape," said Dr. Brian Caveney, Labcorp's chief medical and scientific officer. "By expanding access to our scientifically validated biomarkers and test panels, we're empowering healthcare providers with convenient tests that provide a more robust view of their patients' health to deliver comprehensive and holistic care."
