FDA recommends genetic screening prior to treatment with Abacavir

ROCKVILLE, Md -- July 24, 2008 -- The US Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has issued an alert regarding serious, and sometimes fatal, hypersensitivity reactions (HSRs) caused by abacavir (Ziagen) therapy in patients with a particular human leukocyte antigen (HLA) allele, HLA-B* 5701.

Genetic tests for HLA-B*5701 are already available, and all patients should be screened for the HLA-B*5701 allele before starting or restarting treatment with abacavir or abacavir-containing medications.

Interpretation Of Laboratory Results

Note that in the following automated interpretation the current sample is compared to the sample collected on 07/25/2004. Inclusion the university of the current sample and the sample collected on 07/26/2004 by an excessive amount.

Unse volume has men hut remains low (was 0.91 and now is 1.46 (/d). Low unne volume in a stone former should always be corrected if possible. A good clinical goal is 2.5 liters dealy. Recheck in 6 weeks and adjust flad infake as needed.

Bordenine hyperoxecure is now present (was 26 and now is 33 mg/d). This can contribute to calcium ovalate store diverse. Our records do not show the presence of towel diverse. High protein det is not a likely cause of hyperoxecura (PCH = 0.9 g/d) (1. Low calcium det can increase une ovalate and should be clinically evaluated. Low oxalete det should be prescribed. Consider det change and repeat in 6 to 12 weeks.

Unne oftvate has risen but remains low (was 247 and now is 356 mg/d). Our records do not report that potassium obtate has been prescribed. Since unne obtate is low and SS CaP is not high consider adding.
